

Felting by Hand Anne Einset Vickrey $19.95 950-186

This well-written, easy-to-follow book, contains information about felting that I don't remember seeing before. For example, the felting quality of wool varies with the breed of sheep from which it is obtained (and a table listing the felting qualities of different wools is included). In addition, the author shows you how to make your own patterns, describes the felting and fulling processes, and presents several different projects for making slippers, mittens, hats, a handbag, wall hangings and rugs, a vest, and more.
