

The Nature of Basketry

Ed Rossbach $20.00 950-418

The great panorama of basketmaking is presented with all its trappings of beads, feathers, bells, strips of rag and leather. Straw, bark, tinfoil, and plastic take their places alongside bamboo, rattan, oak splints, and the rest, as materials to be worked into baskets. The basic techniques of plaiting, coiling, twining, and wickerwork are like the materials themselves, something to be manipulated, combined, and played with.
